A Hermit's Death—Two Stables Burned—Bit of His Ear—Expensive Hunt—Labor Problem—Content Begon—Three of a Kind.

Pleaded Guilty to the Charge. County Assessor John B. Everett pleaded guilty to the charge of breach of the peace and carrying a pistol and was fined $35 and costs.

Assignment at Gethse. Guthrie, Nov. 24.—George T. Randle, a leading merchant of this place, made an assignment this evening to Mr. Gill, of Elkton. Cause of the failure, depression in trade. Assets are estimated at $3,000, which amount will more than cover his liabilities.

Took the Express Route. Clarksville, Tenn., Nov. 23.—B. W. Keith and Miss C. D. Winsett eloped from their home 20 miles North of Hopkinsville last night, traveling overland a distance of 60 miles on horse back, and were married by Squire S. A. Caldwell, in the Court House here this afternoon.

A Stable Burned. Mr. Chas. A. McCarrall's stable on his farm near the city, was burned Tuesday night. The live stock was all gotten out. In addition to the building, Mr. McCarrall lost 80 barrels of corn, gearing, farming implements, etc. His loss will amount to several hundred dollars.

Death of a Hermit. Herndon, Nov. 25.—Boyd Griffey is dead at his home near Howell. He lived three miles from Howell, but some of the people of that place had never seen him, as he left his small farm and house but seldom. Last election day he was prevailed upon to vote, and caught cold at the polls which resulted in pneumonia, causing his death.

Bit on His Ear. While Mr. John H. Morton, who keeps a livery stable on West Seventh street, was feeding his horses yesterday morning, one of the animals made a vicious snap, biting off one half of his right ear. The wound caused the loss of much blood before a physician arrived and stopped the flow. The piece of flesh bitten off could not be found.

Killed by a Horse. A small child of Mr. Dunning, of Marshall county, was kicked by a horse near Golden Pond last Thursday and instantly killed. Mr. Dunning and his family had started home from a visit to relatives between the river, and near Golden Pond the horse became frightened and began to run and kick, and the little child, who was sitting in the foot of the buggy, was run over and killed. Cadiz Telegram.

Stable Burned Down. Mr. W. Gooch's stable on North Main street was burned about 10:30 o'clock Wednesday night, with all of its contents consisting of corn, hay, etc. It was a small frame building and was destroyed before the fire department could get out. In hitching up one of the horse carts an accident to the gearing occurred and the horse ran away with Lee Morris, the teamster, and ran across the North bridge before he could be stopped, thumping and bruising Mr. Morris more or less. The loss to Mr. Gooch was perhaps a $100. The origin of the fire is not known.

A Title of Malefactor. Constable W. T. Bragne, of Lafay, brought three negroes to town last week who have been violating laws. Marion Carter was sent to workhouse by Esq. Fraser for taking a gun at a negro boy and firing a general row. The other two were sent to the workhouse for having the money for a horse sent to the workhouse. Two other goldbugs, William Edmon and Harrison Edmon, did not know prosperity hogs. They were run in for stealing probably were put in jail and will be sent to the penitentiary in March.

Attorney General. Vanfield, Jr., who has been Attorney General of the State, brought the contest of Crumbaugh for the Senate from this district in the recent contest served on the notice of this week. The Crumbaugh votes cast in Hopkins of all the Beverly and of 217 No. 2 and questioned and other persons are cast in various other votes pointed out and the contest petition alleged. The Bell was elected by about 100 of the legal ballots. A deposition will be begun next day.

THE LABOR PROBLEM.

Still Occupying the Attention of the South Christian Farmers.

The Longview farmer's club means business in the matter of cutting the expenses of wages. The club now has forty members and is holding weekly meetings. Ernest Steger is President and Dr. Harry Watts Secretary. It is non-political, all parties being represented in its membership. Resolutions have been adopted setting several important questions.

The maximum price for wages is $120 a year. This is for the farmers and most expensive hands, who have heretofore been paid from $150 to $180 a year. The sum is divided into monthly payments, the pay during summer months being about double that of winter months. This is to keep hands from wintering at the yearly rates and then jumping their contracts in the busy season. The ordinary hand will be paid only $100, and some as low as $75 a year.

The members also agree not to rent their cabins to outside hands and not to pay day hands higher wages than monthly hands receive, the highest price in the busiest season to be 75 cents and board.

Share hands are to pay rent for their houses between crop seasons by working two days each week and other hands not employed by the year, but who will be needed in the work months, will be allowed to occupy cabins on the same terms and feed themselves, living during the winter on what they have saved during the summer.

The club has sent out the form of an agreement to be signed by all the members and all farmers in the county to be invited to enter into similar agreements and thus fix the schedule of wages for the whole county. In addition to this cut in wages, all the farmers will reduce their similar agreements and thus fix the schedule of wages for the whole county. In addition to this cut in wages, all the farmers will reduce their similar agreements and thus fix the schedule of wages for the whole county.

Mr. Mack Radford, of Longview, decided to make an example of some negro men he caught hunting on his farm and had three of them arrested. They were Jim Kelly and Alex Hopkins, who live at Mr. Ernest Steger's, and Bud Williams, who lives at Mr. Richard Swain's. John Radford the fourth of the trespassers, escaped to Tennessee. The three who were caught were taken before Esq. Barker, who gave them the lowest fine, one cent and costs, but when the costs were figured up it was found that an attorney's fee of $5 was to be added and the total expense to each of them was $5.40. Hunting on other people's land is rather an expensive pastime, as the offense is covered by a special and very severe law.

The "Nolly Cotton-Tall" Escaped.

Vanceburg, Ky., Nov. 24.—Mr. Frank Doyle, who came in from Trip creek this morning, tells about a nolly happening at church yesterday. They were Jim Kelly and Alex Hopkins, who live at Mr. Ernest Steger's, and Bud Williams, who lives at Mr. Richard Swain's. John Radford the fourth of the trespassers, escaped to Tennessee. That's the way that satan is purging the sinner," happily illustrated the preacher, "and it is to be hoped that they may make as lucky an escape as the rabbit did before they are surely caught."

NATIONAL HOLIDAY.

THANKSGIVING AND ITS OBSERVANCE YESTERDAY.

Something About the Origin of the Day—Celebration of Business, and Religious Service.

There are holidays and holidays. Christmas and New Years are Cosmopolitan—are the property of no particular people, but yet are joyously observed by many. But thanksgiving is purely an American holiday, original in conception and growing from a small beginning until it has reached the dignity of a national event. Its first celebration was by the Plymouth colony in 1621—those sturdy pioneers whose piety was as pronounced as their pluck, who honored themselves by honoring their Deity. The custom soon became more general, spreading over all the New England states. After the revolution it gradually extended to the middle states and later to the west, growing more slowly in the south. In 1933 the patriotic Lincoln forever established it in the list of holidays by proclaiming a day of Thanksgiving, his action being promptly followed by the individual proclamations of the governors of the states, who named the same day. Since then, by consent, the first announcement of the day is found in the president's proclamation, and the day so named is also named by the states.

In many ways, says the American Agriculturist, Thanksgiving is one of our most delightful events. It comes at a time when the rigors of winter are not yet at hand. We have at our disposal all the varied products of the soil, and the time for a season of partial rest for the farmer is at hand. One of its most delightful features, which has become quite general, is the gathering together under the roof of the old of the scattered sons and daughters of the day. Two, three and sometimes four generations thus meet around the festive and hospitable table of the old homestead, and thus fraternal ties are strengthened and filial piety encouraged. Another not less commendable feature in this holiday is a practical benevolence which has become very notable. Poor people, to whom a good dinner is a rarity, are hunted out, and in an unobtrusive way are helped to properly observe the day, so far as its festive features are concerned. The sick and the suffering are remembered in various ways. The homeless are for that day, made members of some hospitable household, where they can join in its pleasures. Altogether, this is perhaps its best feature. There is no pleasure so lasting, none which affords such real joy, as that which comes to us from the knowledge that we have done a real kindness to some of the suffering and distressed of our race.

The Kentuckian force worked as usual to issue this paper, being thankful that they were able to work. Holidays rarely ever occur in a newspaper office. It is all work and no play and precious little pay.

Montana's Good Report.

Butte, Mont., Nov. 22.—Official returns on the late election have been received from all of the counties in Montana and give Bryan 43,683 votes; McKinley 10,400. Charles S. Hartman (Silver) for Congress 34,008; O. F. Gaddard, McKinley Republican 9,846; Robert Smith (fusion candidate for Governor) 34,665; A. B. Botkin (Republican candidate for Governor) 14,964. McKinley had a small majority in two counties, Custer and Dawson.

Last, but not least, the devotional character of the evening motive of the day, is encouraged and developed, we learn to be more content with our lot, thankful for what we have, and hopeful for the future.

The day was observed in Hopkinsville, by a union Thanksgiving service at the Tabernacle, an appropriate sermon being preached by Rev. H. D. Smith of the Christian church, to a large crowd. A separate service was also held at the Episcopal church, by Rev. R. S. Carter, the rector. All of the schools adjourned for the day and the public schools will not resume until Monday.

The banks did no business and many of the business houses closed for a part of the day. The Kentuckian force worked as usual to issue this paper, being thankful that they were able to work. Holidays rarely ever occur in a newspaper office. It is all work and no play and precious little pay.

LYNCHING IS IN ORDER.

A Mayfield Lady The Victim of a Brutal Negro.

At eleven o'clock Monday night the wife of Prof. J. M. R. Green, of this city, was outraged by Jim Stone, a brutal negro living three miles south of town. At the hour named Mrs. Green was aroused from sleep by feeling the fingers of a man on her throat. She was unable to make an outcry, and her assailant presented a pistol, telling her he would kill her if she made an outcry. He then succeeded in accomplishing his purpose and escaping through a window, by which means he entered the house. Stone was arrested Tuesday and indications pointed strongly to his hanging that night, and a crowd was gathering for that purpose when the officers succeeded in taking the negro to Paducah, placing him in jail. The crowd followed on the midnight train, but when it arrived in Paducah, Stone had been taken to some other place and could not be found. It is the universal opinion that the negro is guilty and ought to be hung at once.—Mayfield Monitor.

It is now known that the negro was taken to the country under guard for safe keeping. Prof. Green accompanied the mob to Paducah, carrying with him a revolver, and the court may be called at once to indict and try the brute. Nothing but his speedy execution, by law or otherwise, will meet the requirements of the case.

Stone was taken to Louisville Wednesday night and is now in jail there. He denies his guilt, of course, and now that he considers himself safe talks in a brazen way about the affair, referring to his victim as "the woman." The Courier-Journal speaks of the rapist and ex-convict as "James Stone the young colored man charged with assault." He is twenty-one years old and according to the same paper has a "good countenance."

"The Ladies Orchestra."

The Ladies' Orchestra, Chas. E. Perry manager, gave their first entertainment in this city last evening. From what we had heard and read, about this Orchestra, we expected a fine entertainment, which was more than realized. The orchestra presented itself. The orchestra composed entirely of young ladies, with the single exception of the director, Mr. W. McKee. They were dressed in silk and satin Greek costumes. A more beautiful picture could not be found. The first number was a waltz, "The March—Handicap—by Rosey," which proved to those present, that there was a treat in store for them. The program was so good, that we regret that space will not permit of our mentioning each member, but we must say a few words for the soloists.

The first, a Troubadour Solo, "Tramp, Tramp, Tramp," rendered by Miss Ada Rudolph, was given in a very pleasing manner and brought forth a grand ovation. She responded with an encore. The instrument will never suffer in such hands as Miss Rudolph's.

The next was the flute solo by Miss Florence C. Eckert. It was given with ease with which this young lady handled her instrument, that she was an artist of great merit. She played "The Blue Dove" to respond to her encore with "My Lodging is on the Cold Ground," which was played with much feeling.

The violin solo by Miss Anna Miller, was one of the most appreciated numbers of the entire program. Miss Miller has perfect command of her instrument. She responded to a doubly well deserved encore.

The last was the harp solo given by Alice N. Mead. This number was looked forward to with much interest and when played was greatly appreciated. Mrs. Mead is to be congratulated upon the mastery manner with which she handles her beautiful instrument.

The orchestra numbers were all finely rendered and we never had an afternoon after they came back from more thoroughly enjoyed, and for those who did not hear the concert we feel that they have missed a treat. We hope that the city at large will arrange a return date for the Clara Schumann Ladies Orchestra, who will always be accorded a hearty welcome.

All of A. D. Power's household effects had been shipped from Riverboro to Riverboro, Ala., at which place Mr. Powers will reside in the future. Mr. Powers married at Riverboro, to which place his wife and children returned soon after they came back from Chicago and where Mr. Powers joined them ten days later.—Birmingham Gleaner.

Thos. J. Henry, formerly clerk of the Court of Appeals, died at Henry at Hazel Green last night. He held the office while Sam Gaines was deputy and acting clerk.

A mother in the State of Washington cut the throats of her three little children and then attempted suicide.

Some of Them at Least Are Real Works of Art.

[Special Berlin Letter.]

Among the many things which the Berlin of former days was deficient in—monuments and public fountains may be mentioned. Every tourist who visits Paris and London notices that these two elements of urban attractiveness—monuments of great men and women and large fountains of sculptural and architectural beauty—play a large part in the charms of those cities as a whole.

Altogether there are now standing in Berlin streets, squares, public places and in front of buildings some 2355 monuments, busts or other sculptural works of the larger kind. Of this number, however, but relatively few are works of art of the first order. The Goethe monument in the Tiergarten, wholly of Carrara marble, is by general consent considered the finest of all Berlin monuments, and, indeed, one may say that there are few, if any,

Among the great men in whose honor monuments are now erected in Berlin are Frederick the Great, Frederick Wilhelm I, the Great, Frederick Wilhelm II, Humboldt, Bismarck, Stein, Schlegel, and many others, and within the next two years a number of great scientists, like Helmholtz, Siemens, etc., will be erected. In 1902, the first of the new monuments erected, that of the poet Heinrich Heine, was unveiled. Within the next three or four years other large monuments have been erected, such as the symbolical one of Berolina on Alexander Platz, the large Luther monument in the center of the city, the monument of Heinrich Heine, the Bear and of Margrave Waldeken near the Muhlendamm.

But of much greater magnitude will be two large monumental enterprises now in progress, the monument to the Emperor William I, and that of the Emperor William II. The monument of the first of these is the national monument to Emperor William I, which is to be unveiled on the centenary of his birth, March 23, 1897. This will be, by all odds, the largest monument ever erected, and all, and also over Germany part of every

Headquarters of a Thrifty Band
Located at Chicago.

[Special Chicago Letter.]

It is in July 14 years since the band left Great Britain. From 1882 until 1892 they wandered from state to state, trading horses in one place and buying property in another with the boot of a horse. They then moved to the state of California. It was then that the news of the selection of Chicago as the site for the world's fair reached them and they promptly turned their faces back toward the main fairgrounds. They then set out on a journey to the city of King Seeds, and took the trail for Denver, Col. Many and severe were the hardships they endured on their weary march through the mountains, and many and long the days of their journey. When King Seeds determined to take the cars from that city to Chicago,

A detailed black and white illustration of a horse-drawn stagecoach. The stagecoach is a large, box-like vehicle with a dark body and a lighter-colored upper section. It has large, spoked wheels and is being pulled by a team of horses, though the horses are mostly obscured by the stagecoach's body. A driver is visible in the front, and several passengers are seated inside. The background shows a simple landscape with a fence and some foliage.

and not infrequently leaves Foxy Johnny, the lawyer, in an undignified position close to the spot where she stood when he mounted her.

Myer Lowell, alias Cowboy, takes the other horses out to pasture, and indeed there are many of them, often 70 or 75, but Cowboy Lowell is an expert, and it is claimed that he can turn five horses out on the prairie and catch them all again in two minutes, or throw a wild horse by catching it by the fore legs with his hands and giving it a heave-

Contention and disputation are not the mark of either a great mind or a calm, set spirit. The thinker quietly does his best to make his meaning clear, but if there is still lack of comprehension on the part of his hearer, he simply waits for that comprehension which time is sure to bring. — James Mudge.

It is now considered certain that Hanna will be Secretary of the Treasury, Sherman to remain in the Senate.

Maj. McKieley has engaged a luxurious suite of rooms at the Ebbitt House to occupy in advance of his inauguration.

Calloway county has a citizen whose name is Spill Waters. Speaking of names, somebody should "sit them up" to Mr. Waters.

The young Duchess of Marlborough, formerly Miss Consuelo Vanderbilt, is entertaining the Prince and Princess of Wales this week.

Mr. W. P. Gatlin, Democratic State Central Committeeman for the First District, has resigned and his successor will be elected by the district committee.

Last week Mr. Love and Miss Sale were married in Murray, and it is strange some punster hasn't thought to remark that one married for Love while the other was for Sale.

Princess Elvira, daughter of Don Carlos, pretender to the Spanish throne, has eloped to Barcelona with a Roman artist named Fokaly, royalty is much torn up by the affair.

The Republicans have 205 members of the house, five of them being free silver men. If these vote with the silver men, the goldbugs will have 43 majority, the Republican majority being 58.

An electric locomotive has just been made at Philadelphia that will run 200 miles an hour. It is only a question of time and very short time at that—when all railroad trains will be run by electricity.

A special election will be held in Charles F. Crisp's district in Georgia Dec. 16 to fill the vacancy caused by Mr. Crisp's death. Charles R. Crisp, son of the deceased statesman, has been nominated and will be elected without opposition.

The so-called "Democratic club" of New York met Tuesday night to celebrate McKieley's election and the same night the Home Market Republican club of Boston held a meeting and cheered the name of Grover Cleveland, who was elected President as a Democrat.

"Christmas is coming"—Calloway Times.
It seems some people can never get things straight. Now this is an entire mistake. Christmas is stationary. It neither comes nor goes. It occurs the same time every year. What you want to say is that we are moving toward Christmas.

The Princess de Chimay, formerly Miss Clara Ward, of Detroit, who taught the Prince six years ago, has left her royal husband and two children and eloped with a Gypsy musician. She is still quite young, being only 23 years old. The scandal is one that has caused a sensation even in Paris.

Mr. Bryan spoke on the subject of "Colorado" at the celebration of the twentieth anniversary of the state's admission to the union held in Denver Tuesday night. The reception given the great leader of Democracy was the most cordial and enthusiastic greeting ever extended to any man in the West. It is estimated that 250,000 people were present.

Ezra Milligan, a Delaware Republican, and his Democratic wife made a novel bet. She agreed if McKieley was elected to let him kiss every member of his Sunday school class, composed of young ladies. Milligan has been anxious to do the kissing every since the election, but not until Sunday did Mr. Milligan agree to it, when the bet was paid in her presence. The girls were rather anxious to take part in the performance.

Gov. Bradley has appointed the following delegates to attend Gov. Mitchell's "boast defense" convention at Tampa, Fla., Jan. 20, 1897: First, R. T. Tyler, Hickman; Second, T. W. Gardner, Madisonville; Third, W. F. Browder, Russellville; Fourth, E. H. Popson, Greensburg; Fifth, W. B. Haldeman, Louisville; Sixth, W. W. Dickerson, Williamson; Seventh, M. J. Durham, Lexington; Eighth, Brutus J. Clay, Richmond; Ninth, Dr. Lewis Salt Lick; Tenth, N. T. Hopkins, Pikeville; Eleventh, J. L. McCoy, Pineville. The delegates named for the first, third, fifth, sixth, seventh and eighth districts are new recruits, who have received their first official recognition from the Republican administration.

The Democratic State Committee met at Lexington Tuesday and decided to make a contest on the electoral ticket. A committee was also appointed to prepare an address to the Democrats of the State and another committee was given the work of pushing the proposition to establish a Democratic paper in Louisville. A good deal of business looking to the future organization of the party was transacted. The Boltoerats, it was decided, have placed themselves outside the organization of the party and will not be allowed to participate in future conventions until they have in good faith returned to the party and the support of its platform.

Calloway will likely furnish one or more candidates for either circuit judge or commonwealth's attorney. We think that with our two coming young lawyers, James H. Coleman for commonwealth's attorney and Cons Line for county attorney, the commonwealth would be well represented and criminals closely looked after. However, this is for the people to say, and we only mention names because we so frequently spoken of in this connection—Calloway Times.

It is reported in this end of the district that Mr. Coleman will not enter the race for commonwealth's attorney. If he should do so, it is admitted on all sides that he would be a mighty hard man to beat for the nomination.

Judge J. C. Parker, of the United States court for the district of Arkansas, is dead after 21 years service on the bench. During that time he tried 14,000 cases, $600 resulting in convictions. Of these convictions 152 were for capital offenses and Judge Parker passed the death sentence upon the condemned men, 89 of whom were hanged, 4 died in jail, one was killed while trying to escape, 2 were pardoned and 66 had their sentences commuted to imprisonment. During the same period, 65 deputy marshals were killed while arresting prisoners to be tried in his court.

Neither of those decoys, Palmer and Buckner, carried his State, county or voting places, but contrary to prediction and contrary to expectations, they did carry one precinct in the United States. It was Dudley Township, Haskell county, Kansas, where but six votes were cast, three for the decoys, two for McKieley and one for Bryan. Those who bet against the old fellows will now walk up to the captain's desk and settle—futures Journal.

Mr. James H. Coleman, of Murray, frequently mentioned as a prospective candidate for commonwealth's attorney, will not be a candidate for that office, according to the Ledger, but will be a candidate for re-election as county attorney of Calloway county.

Chas. C. Nott, a New York Boltoerat, has been appointed Chief Justice of the Court of Claims, a promotion. Charles A. Bowry, another of the same ilk, has been appointed to succeed Nott.

The town of Baltimore, in Vermont, did not hold an election, on account of a mistake in complying with the election law.

FIVE IN ONE.

The Little Republics of Central America Form One Union.
Washington, Nov. 25.—Official notice of the coalition of the Central American Republics is made in an announcement of the Honduran Government through the Universal Postal Union that by virtue of a compact of the Central American Union, signed by the Government of Nicaragua, Salvador and Honduras, each of these three Republics has constituted itself a State. These States, it is cited, form one Republic under the name of the "Great Republic of Central America," and the Honduran Directory General of Posts says it is expected that the Republics of Costa Rica and Guatemala will join the union.

Lands in Wisconsin
Are now as desirable as any in the market. The lands, particularly in the northern part of Wisconsin, are being rapidly taken up by actual settlers. The most salable are the timber and meadow lands now ranging in price from $8.00 to $12.00 per acre. A few months hence their value will be greatly increased.

For a home or for investment no luckier chance in the West has ever before been offered. Now is the time to invest. No better farming land exists anywhere. No greater result can be obtained anywhere.

Schools and churches abound everywhere. Nearby markets for all farm products. Wisconsin is one of the banner states of the West.

Take Vitalin Liver Pills.

Nervous

People often wonder why their nerves are so weak; why they get tired so easily; why they start at every slight but sudden sound; why they do not sleep naturally; why they have frequent headaches, indigestion and nervous

Dyspepsia

The explanation is simple. It is found in that impure blood which is constantly feeding the nerves upon refuse instead of the elements of strength and vigor. In such condition opiate and nerve compounds simply deaden and do not cure. Hood's Sarsaparilla feeds the nerves pure, rich, red blood; gives natural sleep, perfect digestion, is the true remedy for all nervous troubles.

Whatever may be said about the publications of Rev. Irl R. Hicks by those who do not fully understand the facts, there is no denying the truth that his paper and Almanac have come to stay. His splendid Journal, Word and Works, is now entering its tenth year, largely increased in circulation and in every way improved, until it deserves the national reputation it has attained. His 1897 Almanac is now ready and is by far the finest and most beautiful he has issued. It contains 108 pages, including cover artistically printed in colors, and is filled from back to back with just what is wanted in every shop, office and home in America. One feature of the book for 1897 is a series of 12 original, beautifully engraved star maps, with explanatory chapters, which cannot be bought for less than five dollars in any work on astronomy. As Mr. Hicks has so correctly and faithfully warned the public of coming droughts, floods, cold waves, blizzards, tornadoes and cyclones, in the year past, aside from the other varied and splendid features of his paper and Almanac, these considerations alone should prompt every family to subscribe at once for 1897. The Almanac is only 25 cts. a copy. Word and Works is one dollar a year, and a copy of the fine Almanac goes with a premium with every yearly subscription. Write to Word and Works Publishing Co., St. Louis, Mo.

Anti-Bradley people now intimate that the Governor will not call the extra session until after March 4, intending to appoint Blackburn's successor, and later gather in the plum himself.

Cullings from Crofton.

Crofton, Nov. 25.—Miss Sallie C. Clark, daughter of Judge V. C. Clark, died Tuesday morning. Her funeral was preached to-day at the Christian church, by the pastor, Rev. W. B. Wright, of Hopkinsville. Interment was at the Clark family burying ground, near this place. Miss Sallie was sick about eight days with a stomach trouble and her sudden death is quite a shock to her family and her many friends.

Miss Zedie Howard, of Madisonville, is visiting friends here.

Mrs. A. L. Burkholder, who had been visiting her father's family, has returned to her home at Brookville, Ky.

Miss Lula E. Clark, who is teaching in the Madisonville public school, has been laid up with a cold, and is unable to attend to her duties.

Misses Mattie and Sallie, of Madisonville, are the guests of Miss Clara Clark.

Three months later, who for, past here and at other points in Kentucky, left for her home in Emu, Kansas, last Sunday.

Mrs. J. M. Burkholder, of Gray, Ohio, mother of Henry Burkholder, of this place, and her daughter, Miss Ella, will spend the winter at Zeno.

SOME MEN OF THE HOUR.

A Pleasant Chat About Some European Notabilities.

The Rise and Personality of Count Goluchowski—Recent Diplomatic Revelations of International Interest—The Status of the League.

[Special Letter.] Stubby, fat and broad-shouldered, Count Agenor Goluchowski, Austria's minister for foreign affairs, is a man of genius whom you and I should know better. Among all of the European statesmen of the present day he is the only one who believes that the Turkish question can be settled without an international war. Like the late Prince Lobanoff, Prince Hohenlohe and Lord Salisbury, he is convinced that the sultan must be driven out of Europe, but unlike them he favors a referendum to arbitration rather than an appeal to arms. His idea is the calling together of an international congress, whose members should be empowered to agree upon a division of the spoils. When confronted by the united powers of Europe, the count argues, the ports would submit to the inevitable without bloodshed, and European peace would be assured for many years to come. Count Goluchowski is by no means a visionary. He was for many years attached to the Austrian embassy and served a long term as Austrian minister to Bucharest, the capital of Roumania. He is, in fact, more in rapport with the aims and ambitions of the Turkish diplomacy than any other continental diplomat, and his confident assertion that Turkey would not attempt to do a genuine European concert is entitled to more than passing consideration. The friends of the count predict that he will before long be recognized as the greatest and most patriotic statesman of the age. Although by heredity and inclination a thorough aristocrat, feeling descended from one of the most distinguished noble families of Austria, Poland, he possesses the faculty of attracting to his charming mental personality representatives of every stratum of society. He is immensely wealthy, fond of social life and a patron of the turf and chase. His marriage to Princess Anne Murat, a French woman of rare wit and vast possessions, contributed not a little toward his social success at Paris. He was born in 1846, and hence has just reached the age when European statesmen are beginning to be recognized by their contemporaries.

Count Goluchowski's liking for things French reminds me of his friendship for the late M. Challemeil-Lacour, president of the French senate and at time ambassador of France in London and minister of foreign affairs. M. Challemeil-Lacour was not an aristocrat, nor the son of an aristocrat. He was a scholar who started in life as a professor of philosophy in the lycées of Pau and Limoges. His first experience in political life was as a viticole opponent of Napoleon III, who, after the coup of 1859, banished him from France. In 1874 he returned to Paris and became compel the powers to fight openly for what they considered the one. Prince Bismarck, by the way, manages to create consternation in the diplomatic world whenever inclination moves him to oppose the line of European destiny makers. The other day he pointed out that Germany should cultivate Russia's friendship—a policy pursued by him in the past—because of and Great Britain, care for its own best interests. Indirectly this bit of advice brought out, in a semi-official way, a bit of information which has been a public secret for many years. While Bismarck was busily engaged in cementing the triple alliance, consisting of Germany, Austria and Italy, he entered into a secret alliance of Russia binding the German empire to neutrality in case of an Austrian attack on Russia, the Russian empire agreeing to remain itself to remain neutral in case of a war between France and Germany. This understanding, in direct violation of the oft-repeated convention of the Breilbund, was in existence from 1884 until Bismarck's retirement from office. Gen. Caprivi and Prince Hohenlohe, his successors in the chancellery, repudiated the agreement with Russia, but the publication in Bismarck's own newspaper, of its existence for a period of six years, left a long impression in Austria and Italy, and Count Goluchowski will probably demand a categorical repudiation of all such secret understandings on the part of the present German government.

While the various foreign offices are engaged in disseminating this Bismarckian double dealing, Turkey is preparing to make a final move which will be a real military power. To sustain the pretense, the sultan has levied a poll tax and increased the taxes on sheep, public works and education. The funds so raised to be devoted to the armament of the Turkish reserves. Should the ports succeed in exhorting the new Turkey to the chancellery, the sultan will engage in a fight for existence. He has everything to gain and nothing to lose by a war. His ships, his army, his navy, are numbered, and his plucky fight may secure for him recognition as an Asiatic monarch. A war begun at this time would be a "black war." It would be a struggle of Mohammedanism against Christianity, of the crescent and the cross. It would be the cruellest campaign in Europe, his knowledge with Kismet on one side and the Cossack on the other. But as it is hard to squeeze blood out of a turnip, and as even a Turkish war need not mean to feed his troops, the possibilities of such a conflict are, as Count Goluchowski has pointed out, rather remote.

foreign affairs in the Philip Currie, British ambassador at Constantinople. Sir Philip is a determined, aggressive individual, British in his prejudices, but cosmopolitan in his official life. He has drawn up more "blue notes" to his Imperial majesty, Abdul-Hamid, sultan of Turkey, than all other diplomats combined. Sometimes these notes smelled of guano, and at other times they bristled with bayonets; but, and to relate, the effect on their recipient always proved all. The dyspeptic publisher received so many of them that their value and importance came to be estimated at their true worth, and in protecting the lives of the poor Anadolians, who were being persecuted, they had an opposite result. "Joint notes" of ambassadors are a good thing when they are backed by joint fleets and joint armies, but when they are mere words they are equivalent to one of Jim Corbett's or Sator Sharkey's bombastic "dets." It would seem that Sir Philip is beginning to take this view of the matter, as his efforts at joint authorship are not quite as prolific as they were a few months ago. However, the British ambassador has done much to protect the persecuted Armenians, and for this he is entitled to the thanks of the Christian world.

Reverting to the settlement of the so-called "eastern question" by means of a peaceful understanding I am reminded of a remark once made by Prince Bismarck to the effect that the whole eastern muddle was not worth the life of one Pomeranian grenadier. The astute German statesman realized many years ago that the only obstacle in the way of a permanent settlement was the distribution of the spoils. Each of the powers hungry for a share of the spoils was afraid the other would get more than it should have. The rock on which the Berlin conference of 1878 split is just as formidable now as it was then, and the creation of a few buffer states like Serbia, Montenegro, Bulgaria and Roumania, which threatened the peace of jealousy sours by the powers. Russia wants Constantinople, but she is not willing that Great Britain should have Egypt. Austria desires a station on the Balkan peninsula, but she does not want Russia to control the mouth of the river. Until these misunderstandings can be cleared up, no permanent settlement of the eastern question is possible.

SIR PHILIP CURRIE.

but wishing and hoping won't help him. It is what he does, and not what he wishes that serves his purpose. If a man is losing flesh and is nervous, irritable, sleepless and debilitated, he may wish he would get well, but he will not be able to do so until he has taken Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery. It is a man on the way to consumption, he should make a stop as quickly as possible. He should put on brakes. He needn't be afraid he has consumption if he will do the right thing—he will just take the right medicine. The "Golden Medical Discovery" cures incipient and well-developed consumption. It is a germ disease and a blood disease. The "Golden Medical Discovery" kills the germs and purifies the blood. It increases the appetite, helps digestion, makes assimilation perfect, and so builds up the system. Hundreds of grateful people afflicted with consumption, bronchitis, throat and kindred diseases, have testified that they have actually saved their lives. For the sake of the information they contain, some of these letters have been included in Dr. Pierce's Common Sense Medical Adviser, a thousand page, illustrated book, which will be sent free on receipt of twenty-one (21) one-cent stamps to pay for mailing only. While there is still time it is the right time to get rid of a cough or cold, or a throat or chest trouble. These are easiest of all disorders to neglect and the most serious of their results. The lungs are the most important and delicate organs of the human body; if harassed by a continuous hacking cough, or worse, broken down, that means consumption and consumption means death. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey cures coughs, colds, and throat and chest troubles of all descriptions. It never fails.

A new theory in the treatment of coughs, lung and bronchial affections has been advanced by the manufacturers of Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It is truly a wonderful remedy. All dealers sell it on a positive guarantee.

There is nothing so good for the coughs and colds of the children and the young as Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey. It cures cough, whooping cough, cold in the head and gives sweet, refreshing sleep. It is pleasantly sweet to the taste. Any child will take it and ask for more. Good druggists sell it.

A happy man is always a healthy one. It is impossible to be happy or cheerful or useful when one is suffering from a discomforting cold or a nasty little cough. It is wonderful that people will go on from day to day suffering from this distressing condition when relief is so easily obtained. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey cures coughs and colds of all descriptions. It is sold by druggists.

There is no joy in this world equal to the happiness of motherhood.

A woman's health is her dearest possession. Good looks, good times, happiness, love and the assurance, depend on her health. Almost all of the sickness of women is traceable directly or indirectly to some derangement of the organs distinctly female.

Troubles of this kind are often neglected because a very natural and proper modesty keeps women away from physicians and the assistance upon examination and local treatment is generally as useless as it is common.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, will do more for them than 99 doctors in 100. It will do more than the hundredth doctor unless he prescribes it. It is a prescription of Dr. R. V. Pierce, who for 30 years has been chief consulting physician to the Woman's Dispensary and Invalids' Hotel, at Buffalo, N. Y.
